DRAGONBLOODED HERO

竜の血の覚醒者

ALBERIUS

Royal Armaments

The legendary Founder King. Three centuries ago, he defeated the Other who had been restored by the Dyrenell Empire and founded the Kingdom of Alberia. Able to form pacts with many dragons, he soon joined forces with the Six Greatwyrms.

Three hundred years ago, this land was engulfed in a dark age you now know as the Second War of Binding. With each passing day, the Dyrenell Empire grew ever more bold in their conquest of this land. Even the principles set forth by the Goddess began to crumble under the weight of the chaos, and the Other's cruel grip tightened on the world.

But then, when the embers of hope were on the verge of sputtering out, a hero rose from the darkness... In a time of strife and sorrow, a new pact was formed between people and dragons.

Midgarsormr the Windwyrm once met a man who was every bit as eccentric as he. The man was daring, open-minded, and fearless, such that he did not even fear frequent visits to the dragon's lair. The wyrm thought the man rather capricious, but also came to value his idea of freedom. His was a great soul, beautiful and candid, and the wyrm hoped he would remain in good health forever. However... Being of great will and strength, the man threw himself into conflict. His body was rent. His soul torn. And yet, amidst the carnage, the pactbound dragon made but a single query of the man: Strength used to protect others can often fail to protect its wielder. Do you never wish for simple, mundane happiness? Blades flashed. Spells flew. Battle raged, but the man smiled and raised his sword. I knew that when I chose this path. Surely you understand, my friend? The wyrm looked into the man's eyes and saw supreme confidence in his actions. "Then let us fulfill our oath, friend."

LEGENDARY

DRAGON'S
FIERCE RULE II

"This is the day the legend of the dragonblood hero begins!"

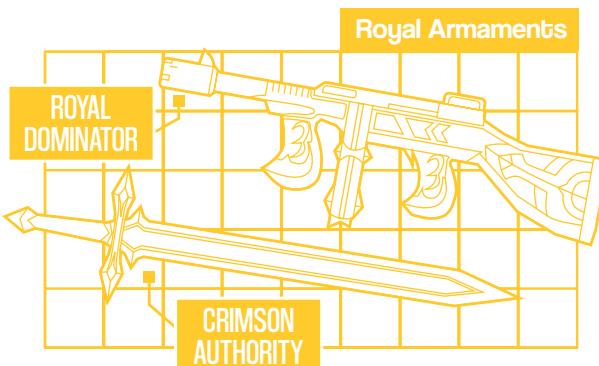

アルベリウス

LORD OF THE NEW PATH

破天の主

LEONIDAS no. 1

"One cannot be a conqueror if they stand apart from danger cowering in fear. To be a conqueror is to stand at the apex! To lead the vanguard of glorious battle! My path forward is paved by the blood of all who fell before my strength! This is the crux of leadership: You lead that others might follow! Rend tree from root, rip down mountains, let rivers run dry as bones! If you would see your will done, all must be laid before you in sacrifice! There is no other way!"

The first scion of the Kingdom of Alberia. He seeks to unify not only South Grostaea, but the whole of the world in order to free it from the dragons' rule. As proof of his resolve, he has taken on brilliant crimson garb.

"What does it mean to be strong? True strength is the power to guide the weak! To wield authority in the name of those who cannot fight for themselves!"

"Be they hero of legend or my own blood ancestor, any who stand in my path shall fall!"

"I shall color the world anew with my crimson!"

RESEARCHER

The second scion of Alberia, and a man of nearly unparalleled intellect. He became a puppet of the Progenitor in order to battle his wyrmsscale. After regaining his freedom, he has been using his knowledge to its fullest extent in order to save the world.

THE UNBENDING
WIND

不羈不惑

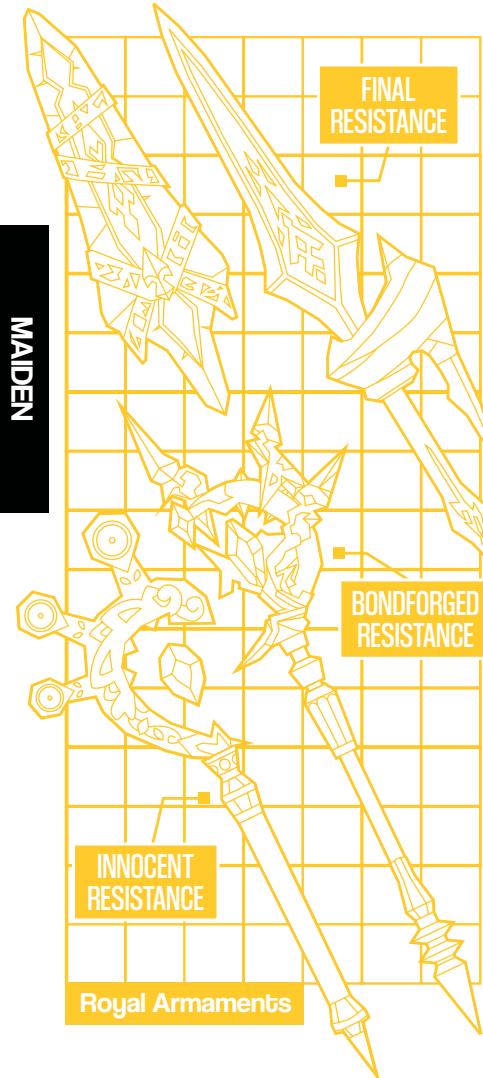

The fourth scion of Alberia, and a man renowned for his military and leadership prowess. Though he generally keeps to himself, his love for his country and people speaks volumes. After serving the empire for a time, he now works with the Halidom in order to save the world.

VALOROUS

RADIANT AUSPEX

聖輝の巫女

Zethia, having awakened to the power of bonds. Using the powers of an Auspex and Bahamut, she fights with her friends to save the world. She now has both the ability to fight and the strength of heart to stand tall on her own.

ZETHIA no. 7.3

"I shall not permit that to happen! I am the one who allowed Bahamut to be revived, so I am going to stop him from using that power! Nnngh... Even if it comes at the cost of my life! I am going to protect my brother and all of my friends! You cannot be here, my brother! If you were to disappear, the whole world would be plunged into despair! I told you yesterday that I would be fine on my own, remember? You need to stay with the others and protect this world. And to ensure that can occur..."

I WILL PROTECT YOU!

I SHALL NEVER GIVE UP! I do this for the friends and family who believe in me, and for all the people I am tasked with protecting! I swore to become a pillar of strength for my people!

"Goddess Ilia, grant me your divine aegis! In the name of holy Elysium, make manifest your miraculous power!"

He was inexperienced when first we met, yet the fiery gaze as he spoke of his goals and future resembled my partner of long ago. I swore that day to guide him, and even now continue to hold true to that pledge. The journey I took with the prince was not always smooth. Indeed, it was often harsh—such as when he learned the truth of his history and birth. Such things might make a lesser man crumble, but he was different. The prince grew strong on his journey—stronger even than my old companion, the great hero Alberius. This once green young man had now surpassed a hero, and was on his way to becoming legend. The prince will raise his sword high to save this world, along with the companions who share bonds with him. People and dragons alike now heed to his call, for he has become the guiding light for the world. Let's go, Midgardsormr! "Understood. We ride!" We are a wind that will change the world. And as we guide and are guided, our breeze creates a new legend.

"I pledge, in the name of the first... My life shall amount to world's creation!"

Royal Armaments

"Come to think of it, I met you at the start of my journey too. Maybe it's fate that everything ends this way." "It is not fate, but merely the sum of your choices." "Your own decisions have altered your very destiny." "Right, Fate is just a thing we create for ourselves. It's our actions that truly shape the world."

NEDRICK

SHADOW OF GENESIS

電影の創世者

"Until this moment, choice has been the privilege of the strong in our world. People who lack strength lack any kind of agency. I know this well, for I was once the same. So I intend to give all the power of shapeshifting that has so long been claimed by the Alberian royal family. People will gain great strength from this, but that is not all. They will gain wings! They will have the freedom to choose and act as they wish without anyone holding them on a leash! What I seek is nothing less than a just way for people to exist. A new ideal."

"Even if all hope is lost, I refuse to simply lie down and die."

"Clever words from a hollow man! Fine, then. Show me such possibility by saving that of the world's. Possibility isn't fair. People with power swim in choices while those with none lack even the most basic rights. If you have possibility greater than mine, best me here and now. If you cannot, then all of your words are nothing but a dream—and the hollow man will die a hollow death!"

REALIST

REBELLIOUS

no. 7.4 ZENA

Until recently, I even felt guilt in prayer. I was certain a tainted creature like me was unfit to offer up her prayers. But knowing there are those in this world who will accept me and permit my presence here makes me able to offer prayers once more. I do so for the people I love as well as all who reside in this world. And—And also, because I must see these prayers to a destination beyond this world. And I hold that belief in my heart as I press on in this kind and lovely world...

I must save my kindly brother—the one with me in the here and now! Even if it means I burn out and disappear for good!

UNWAVERING AUSPEX

信念の巫女

Another Zethia from another world, who is working with the prince and his allies to save it. After joining the prince's party in their fight, she asked them to call her "Zena."

Donning that mask of deceit, I suffered. I knew sadness. I visited pain upon myself. Yet in this world, I need no such facade... for I have people who love my true essence, not the deception I used to project.

no. 3

CHELLE

PASSIONATE PRINCESS

烈華の女帝

The third scion of Alberia has set her sights on an even bigger stage—the world! As a shrewd diplomat, she has many cards to play when negotiating with other nations, including the manacoster development that she leads.

Only those who dance with passion
all night can possibly bring freedom to all. If you cannot continue this dance—if you cannot continue to WIN—then you will accomplish nothing.

Our party is just beginning. While the curtain may be drawn on this party, new ones will continue to be held. It is a party of war—with this entire continent as its venue! Princess and prince, dragon and demon alike will all be swept up in the revels. A party whose invitation one cannot deny, and one from which they may not retire. One where any who tire of dancing are defeated and leave the stage. That is the dance we step to now."

Royal Armaments

SALUTO ELEGANTE

Not this... Not that... Mmm, none of these are quite right. ...You there! Bring the next dress—and make sure it's fit for a star! Ugh! This will not do! Take it away! sigh I suppose I'll just have to rely on my own superior fashion sense. Now then, what should I try on next? Lavish decorations... Brilliantly-dressed guests... Admiring gazes coming my way... This is how parties were MEANT to be. All that time spent on my dress paid off; now it's time to enjoy the occasion! There's definitely something to be said for being TOO polite. No matter what I wear, all I get are words of inoffensive praise. ...He was like that, too. But when I become the star of this country—when I am queen—all will be different. Now, behold, everyone! Behold the beauty of Chelle—your future queen!

AUDRIC

THE PATERNAL KING

未来への王冠

"I will put an end to the doomed future!"

The ruler of the Kingdom of Alberia, King Aurelius. With vassals in tow, the peerless and wise lord gazes resolutely ahead. What does he see? Aurelius championed great ideals, guided his people, and was known as the Wise King. And yet, his path had been rocky. He met many obstacles along the way, but fought for his beliefs at every one. Now, the king sits and ponders his future. He knows that if he continues on his current path, he will have to pay with his life. And yet, there is no hesitation whatsoever on his visage. For the king had eight promising children who had learned much from watching him fight to support the kingdom. Any of them was more than worthy to take the reins of the country's future. The king sees a dazzling future. He will watch the backs of his dependable children while moving ever forward along his path.

"As a king and father both, I will fulfill my duty. I'm coming, my beloved progeny."

AUTHOR'S NOTE

I just couldn't get enough after Farewell Alberia and Typography & Localization, couldn't I? I just had to make another book that was two times as ambitious with half the time to work on it. Yay me.

I've found that I just really like making books - the entire process fascinates me from beginning to end. Concepting, designing, printing, final touches - even if I'm burnt out by the end, I'm still left with satisfaction knowing that I have made something. I've left my legacy, but in a cool and stylish way. B)

Alberian Blood was originally conceptualized as a risque, high-fashion magazine-esque artbook for my Typography II class. All of the Alberian royals you know and love would be drawn by yours truly, accompanied by my usual "neo-Japanese-cyberpunk" design, but I soon realized that I was way over my head. There was no way I could get sixteen drawings out in a timely fashion, so after 5 seconds of thought, I decided to turn to get on my knees to beg and plead and grovel for help. And luckily enough, ten talented individuals came to my aid and I could not thank them enough.

Collaborative book-making just makes the experience better. I love being able to work with others and bring all of their talents together into one cohesive piece. Though I set hard limits on this project with a tight ten-week deadline, and a limited color palette, they met and exceeded my expectations. I love that even with the restrictions I put in place, their personal styles still shined through and I was excited to work with their pieces throughout the entire process. They challenged me to try and design in parallel with their art to accentuate it.

Enough of the sappy shit though, thanks to everyone who has supported my Twitter, wouldn't be who I am today without all of you fellas. Shoutouts to you fellas who purchased copies since I know this is probably going to be shared online lol, and mega-shoutouts if you've bought a physical copy.

I may move on eventually, but know that I'm not done with Dragalia just yet. The community is still going strong and I want to keep on creating to keep it alive. Hinomotan Blood coming soon??? Regardless, thanks for the 4.5 years of support to both myself and my fellow artists!
